Red War Planes Shuns U.S. after Challenge Fails

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Communist war planes stayed well out of the way of American jet aircraft Sunday after their first challenge in 10 months to the U.S. raiders had failed.

The defense of North Vietnamese targets was left to Communist ground gunners who knocked down two U.S. Air Force planes with intense surface-to-air missile and anti-aircraft fire, a U.S. spokesman said.

Two other U.S. planes were lost Saturday, apparently to anti-aircraft fire.

American pilots saw no Communist MIG jets Sunday, a spokesman said, even though

U.S. Air Force and Navy planes hammered targets in the same general area where the Americans shot down two MIGs in dogfights Saturday.

On the ground in South Viet Nam, five major American operations met little enemy resistance. But the South Vietnamese said they had better luck.

Vietnamese forces reported killing 245 Viet Cong and capturing 20 weapons along a canal in the Mekong Delta 100 miles southwest of Saigon.

A Vietnamese spokesman reported that the Viet Cong left another 50 dead in an attack on a Vietnamese battalion preparing to open a road north of Nha Trang. Vietnamese casualties were reported light.

The two U.S. Air Force planes shot down Sunday were F105 Thunderchiefs. A "good chute" was sighted from one plane, indicating the pilot was safe but probably captured. No parachute was sighted from the second plane.

Both planes were shot down about 30 miles northeast of Hanoi, the same area where two other Air Force F105s were blasted from the sky Saturday.

This brought the total number of U.S. planes lost over North Viet Nam to 221.

The U.S. planes Saturday and Sunday were on similar missions — the disrupting of the main road and rail link from Hanoi to Communist China. The key target was the Back Gang Railroad bridge, 25 miles northeast of Hanoi.

Some of the 33 missions flown Sunday by the U.S. Air Force were against targets along the Red River Valley. Phantom F4Cs, (Continued on Page 12)

Atomic Image Is Softened

Pentagon Agency Gets New Insignia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon atomic arms agency wants to soften its "big bomb" image.

So it is about to adopt a new insignia.

Gone will be the mushroom cloud — dread symbol of atomic destruction — that now dominates the insignia of the Defense Atomic Support Agency.

Some 4,000 military men assigned to the agency now wear a shoulder patch which also shows a white cloud mushrooming up from a patch of green which represents the earth.

This patch, too, will be replaced by a tamer new design.

But the agency's mission won't change.

The agency still will be responsible for conducting underground nuclear weapons tests, preparing for atmospheric tests in event of a breach of the limited test-ban treaty, studying atomic weapons effects, and advising the Defense Department and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Instead of the dominant mushroom cloud, the new emblem and patch will feature three golden arrows pointing upward, set in a shield of blue.

What does this mean? "It represents the three armed services united in a common purpose," an official explained.

On close inspection, an observer noted tiny white shapes clustered around the shield and arrows. The shapes looked like toothpicks.

"Yes, those are mushroom clouds," acknowledged the official.

But, he pointed out, "they're so small you can hardly tell that's what they are."

18-Inch Rain Hits Northeast Texas

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Two days of torrential rains measuring up to 18 inches sent northeast Texas streams on a rampage, killing at least 10 persons and disrupting rail and highway traffic.

Numerous highway bridges were swept away or weakened. Rail traffic on at least one main line was halted when a bridge collapsed, sending a diesel engine into the swirling water.

Lowland areas near Longview, Gladewater, Kilgore and Marshall have been evacuated and a major flood warning has been issued for the Sabine and Cypress rivers in northeast Texas.

Forecasts called for more heavy rainfall and thundershowers today.

SABOTAGE HINTED IN AIR CRASH — The tail section is the largest piece remaining from the American Flyers Airlines Electra which crashed while attempting a landing at Ardmore, Okla., late Friday night. The plane carried 98 passengers, including a crew of six, and a total of 81 persons lost their lives in the mishap. CAB investigators are studying the plane's tape recorder in hopes of finding clues to see if reports of sabotage can be substantiated.

Drunk Driver Blood Test Goes Before High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Californian appeals his drunken-driving conviction to the Supreme Court today and opens the door to review of a modern police weapon in the fight against slaughter on the highways.

The question before the justices is whether police have the right to take a blood sample from a motorist over his objection to see if he was driving under the influence of liquor.

Armando Schmerber, convicted in Los Angeles in 1964, claims police cannot, that an involuntary blood test violates the suspect's constitutional rights.

In effect, his attorney argued in papers filed with the court, police are being permitted to unfairly squeeze confessions from motorists, much as the medieval rack squeezed confessions.

But Los Angeles authorities said in their brief they took the blood sample from Schmerber without force, that police officers "had a right to search for evidence" and that his constitutional rights were not violated.

In 1957 the court held in a 6-3 decision that police did not violate the Constitution when they took a blood sample from an unconscious man who had been in a highway collision.

Governor Dickers For Arsenal Land

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Release of 5,000 acres of the Ravenna Arsenal at a fair price, says Gov. James A. Rhodes, "could result in 24,000 jobs and a one-half billion dollar capital investment by industry."

Under the terms the Department of Defense stipulated Friday, however, Rhodes said Sunday the purchase price would run "well above $2,000 per acre thus taking it out of consideration by industry."

Federal officials said they would release the land, part of 27,000 acres of arsenal property, if the purchaser would pay the cost of moving ammunition stored there to Pennsylvania. This was figured to run $6 million.

French Quitting NATO as 'Out-of-Date'

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville says France is quitting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's military command because it is out of date, but it doesn't want its friendship with the United States to diminish.

"In the nuclear era, this organization does not deal with the essential element of defense which is nuclear defense," Couve de Murville said.

"France does not seek a special advantage. She is adopting herself to a new situation and this can only have advantages for the equilibrium and peace in Europe."

Couve de Murville said that in withdrawing from the military structure of the North Atlantic requires modern scientific methods of crime detection lest the public go unprotected," Justice Tom C. Clark said for the majority.

"The increasing slaughter on our highways, most of which should be avoidable, now reaches the astounding figures only heard on the battlefield," he added.

The three dissenters were Chief Justice Earl Warren and the court's current senior justices, Hugo L. Black and William O. Douglas.

A ruling for Schmerber may mean the court will have to overrule itself. The way may have been eased when the court ruled in June 1964 that the Fifth Amendment protection against possible self-incrimination is binding on the states.

Dominicans Celebrate, Deride U.S.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Lots of noise but no violence opened a week of celebrations Sunday of the anniversary of the Dominican revolution last April.

An estimated 10,000 demonstrators, most of them youths, massed at Independence Park, repeatedly shouted, "Go home, Yankees," and cheered loudly at the end of the three-hour rally when a big U.S. flag was burned.

Police armed with carbines and tear gas bombs kept a careful watch. The army was on the alert. The Inter-American Peace Force, consisting mostly of U.S. troops, stayed in the background.

In evidence at the rally, organized by leftist groups, were the green and black banner of the pro-Castro 14th of June Movement and the red and black flags of the country's two Communist parties.

The newspaper El Caribe praised the demonstrators for being peaceful but expressed concern over "Communist infiltration into Dominican life."

Victory over Poverty Seen Needed in Asia

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said today peace in Asia depends on victory against "poverty, disease and despair" as well as against "the classic power tactic of communism" in Viet Nam.

"We must not lose the peace in either struggle," the vice president said in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of The Associated Press.

"That is why we have committed once more—as we have had to do before—men, money, and resources to help the nations of Asia help themselves toward security and independence," Humphrey added.

Cautioning that "it won't be easy, it will be frustrating and at times heartbreaking," Humphrey said:

"We must stay and see it through. And the free nations of the world need to know that we have the vision and the endurance to do so."

"Those who threaten their neighbors in Asia should know it too. They should know that we will resist their aggression."

Humphrey, who returned two months ago from a nine-nation Asian tour, added, "They should also know that we bear no consumptive hate against their people, that we have no design on their sovereignty."

"We only look toward the day when all nations may choose to live in harmony with their neighbors—when they may turn together their energies to building a better life for their peoples," he said. "For this is after all our second great task before us: the desperate need to narrow the widening gap between the rich and poor nation of the world."

Humphrey said that it is not possible to preserve lasting peace if glaring economic and social inequality among the peoples of the world exist.

Tying the hopes for peace to helping "the disinherited and left-out of this world," the vice president said:

"Today there are families spending their last day on earth because they haven't the strength or health to keep going."

"But those who remain—and you can be sure of this—those who remain will take to the streets...they will turn to any master...they will tear the fabric of peace to shreds, unless they have some reason to believe there is hope for life and hope for justice."

Transportation Coordinator Establishes Office Here

Robert Seward, coordinator of school transportation for District 21, has established his office at 214½ S. Court St.

Seward, formerly supervisor of county schools here, was one of the first four district coordinators appointed by the State Board of Education.

He will serve a five-county area that includes Pickaway, Madison, Fayette, Ross and Fairfield Counties.

The new school transportation coordinator emphasized it was the duty of his office to provide services to the schools if they wanted it.

ONE of the first problems he faces in his new position is coordinating the school's transportation programs to include parochial students.

A law passed by the last legislature requires school districts to provide transportation for parochial students living in the district.

Other services provided by Seward's office will include:

Transportation reports, assistance with bus purchasing and bus routing, establishing bus driver training programs, establishing maintenance programs for school districts, gathering research data and administering state department policies in regard to transportation.

The phone number at his new office is 474-7632.

School systems in District 21 are: Pickaway County — Circleville City Schools, Teyes Valley, Logan Elm, Westfall, and St. Joseph Elementary;

U.S. Protests Red Action in Yank's Death

MOSCOW (AP)—The United States angrily protested today a Soviet refusal to provide complete information on the death of American tourist Newcomb Mott and suggested this left a suspicion that he was not a suicide.

Mott died Jan. 20 on a Soviet prison train. He was serving an 18-month sentence for illegally entering the Soviet Union. The Russians said he cut his throat with a razor blade.

A U.S. protest said the Russians refused "to provide those vital elements of information which must be available to Soviet authorities and which are essential an objective judgment as to the cause of Mr. Mott's death."

The note appeared to end a long and futile American effort to learn more about the Mott case.

Mott, 27, a book publisher's representative from Sheffield, Mass., was on a vacation when he was arrested as he crossed the Norwegian border into the Soviet Union last Sept. 4.

The note said that four times after March 10 the Russians were asked for more information. But the Soviet government said April 19 that "it does not intend to comply, disclaiming any obligation to provide such information," the note said.

He stressed that France intends to remain part of the North Atlantic Treaty signed in 1949. He pointed out that the military organization was developed after the treaty was signed and "is in no way a condition of it." The United States feels, however, that the military organization is an essential part of the alliance.

Couve de Murville declared that France had no intention of offending the United States by its stand on NATO or conversion of its excess balance of payments into gold.

"American friendship is an ancient precious value to which we are all attached in France and which we do not wish to see disappear or even diminish," he said.

He noted that the conversion of dollar holdings into gold was provided for by the Bretton Woods agreements and said the United States had always done this in the same circumstances.

France notified its NATO allies last month that U.S. and Canadian forces on its soil must leave within a year and that NATO headquarters in France must withdraw by the same time. The United States wants to extend the time limit for at least another year.

Asked what France proposes to do about paying the costs for relocating NATO, Couve de Murville said: "Settlement of financial problems is a matter for negotiations, according to the provisions of the NATO accords or the Franco-American accords."

The foreign minister denied that French policy was maneuvering the United States into closer cooperation with West Germany in military matters.

Dirksen Raps Johnson Plan

Anti-Inflation Banner Unfurled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen carries an anti-inflation banner into a Senate battle today in an effort to limit the scope of a bill to combat rural poverty.

Dirksen's announcement in an interview that he plans to oppose what he called an "open-ended" authorization for rural community development programs surprised GOP colleagues who had voted for the measure when it was approved unanimously by the Senate Agriculture Committee.

Chairman Allen J. Ellender, D-La., had predicted speedy approval of the measure. It is designed to carry out President Johnson's proposal to help farmers and small town residents obtain some of the advantages now limited to cities and their suburbs.

But Dirksen said he wants the cost of this program spelled out before the Senate votes on it.

"This is an example of how Congress can open the door to unlimited government spending," he said. "We are in a period of inflation and we must face up to that fact squarely."

"This is an entirely new venture. What is it going to cost in future expenditures at a time when we should be cutting down on domestic programs to help pay for the cost of the Viet Nam war?"

Dirksen said he was informed that the measure originally proposed an outlay of $285 million. But he said it had been amended to authorize the "appropriation of such sums as may be necessary" to carry out its provisions.

The legislation would make federal funds available for de-

WEEKEND rainfall "helped out a lot," according to several local farmers and weather observers. . . . But more precipitation is needed, they say. . . .

Rainfall during the weekend measured 0.85 of an inch with 0.71 of the total falling on Sunday. . . . The rain gauge for April still stands at more than 1 half-inch behind the normal accumulation of 2.86 inches.

AN IMPROVEMENT has been made in the Common Pleas Courtroom. . . . A gate was installed midway in the railing that separates the bench and counsellors' area from the gallery. . . .

The gate will serve as a convenience to attorneys as well as witnesses being called to the stand. . . . The long walk across the courtroom won't be necessary anymore.

Most Ohio Miners Continue To Strike

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP)—Most of the striking miners at Ohio soft coal mines remained off their jobs today apparently awaiting further union action on a contract agreement reached in Washington.

Only 10 of the 32 mines in the United Mine Workers' District 6 (Eastern Ohio and West Virginia) were operating today, according to District 6 and Ohio Coal Association spokesmen. Many of the operating mines have only partial crews, they said, and pickets are still marching at some.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Louis A. Johnson, a secretary of defense during the Truman administration, died Sunday. He was 75.

Atomic Image Is Softened

Pentagon Agency Gets New Insignia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon atomic arms agency wants to soften its "big bomb" image.

So it is about to adopt a new insignia.

Gone will be the mushroom cloud — dread symbol of atomic destruction — that now dominates the insignia of the Defense Atomic Support Agency.

Some 4,000 military men assigned to the agency now wear a shoulder patch which also shows a white cloud mushrooming up from a patch of green which represents the earth.

This patch, too, will be replaced by a tamer new design.

But the agency's mission won't change.

The agency still will be responsible for conducting underground nuclear weapons tests, preparing for atmospheric tests in event of a breach of the limited test-ban treaty, studying atomic weapons effects, and advising the Defense Department and the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Instead of the dominant mushroom cloud, the new emblem and patch will feature three golden arrows pointing upward, set in a shield of blue.

What does this mean?

"It represents the three armed services united in a common purpose," an official explained.

On close inspection, an observer noted tiny white shapes clustered around the shield and arrows. The shapes looked like toothpicks.

"Yes, those are mushroom clouds," acknowledged the official.

But, he pointed out, "they're so small you can hardly tell that's what they are."

18-Inch Rain Hits Northeast Texas

LONGVIEW, Tex. (AP) — Two days of torrential rains measuring up to 18 inches sent northeast Texas streams on a rampage, killing at least 10 persons and disrupting rail and highway traffic.

Numerous highway bridges were swept away or weakened. Rail traffic on at least one main line was halted when a bridge collapsed, sending a diesel engine into the swirling water.

Lowland areas near Longview, Gladewater, Kilgore and Marshall have been evacuated and a major flood warning has been issued for the Sabine and Cypress rivers in northeast Texas.

Forecasts called for more heavy rainfall and thundershowers today.

Personal Incomes Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Department reports personal income in the U.S. rose last year to $528 billion, a per capita peak of $2,724.

to President Johnson's foreign aid request now before Congress and said, "We hear the same doubt and complaints today that we heard 20 years ago."

"If someone has a substitute for foreign aid, I'd like to hear about it," he said. "The investment we make in foreign aid—in preventive medicine—if you will—is certainly less than that necessary to treat the symptoms of massive economic crisis and disorder, and yes, of war."

But Humphrey said leadership in the world requires "far more than a large stock of gunboats and a hard fist at the conference table" or the ability to go it alone, "although we must not be afraid to do so when necessary."

"Leadership today requires understanding of the problems we face—of the resources at hand—and of the objectives we seek," Humphrey said.

"It requires the ability, perhaps even more, to lead and inspire others—to lead and inspire in a sense of common enterprise."

"For as strong and rich as we may become, our goal of a just and peaceful world will never be achieved by America alone," Humphrey said.

"It will be achieved only when the resources of strong and weak, rich and poor alike are allocated in the most efficient manner possible, to challenges that are far too great for any one nation or group of nations to overcome."

Three Treated During Weekend

Berger Hospital staff members provided emergency care for three persons during the weekend. All were treated and released.

Douglas Marshall, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marshall, Route 1, Stoutsville, suffered burns to his face and right hand at home.

Therrel Van Curen, 33, Route 1, Laurelville, was treated after a piece of steel lodged in his eye while at work.

Tommy Hill, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hill, 139 Town St., lacerated fingers of his right hand in the wringer of a washing machine.

Victory . . .

to President Johnson's foreign aid request now before Congress and said, "We hear the same doubt and complaints today that we heard 20 years ago."

"If someone has a substitute for foreign aid, I'd like to hear about it," he said. "The investment we make in foreign aid—in preventive medicine, if you will—is certainly less than that necessary to treat the symptoms of massive economic crisis and disorder, and yes, of war."

But Humphrey said leadership in the world requires "far more than a large stock of gunboats and a hard fist at the conference table" or the ability to go it alone, "although we must not be afraid to do so when necessary."

"Leadership today requires understanding of the problems we face—the resources at hand—and of the objectives we seek," Humphrey said.

"It requires the ability, perhaps even more, to lead and inspire others—to lead and inspire in a sense of common enterprise."

"For as strong and rich as we may become, our goal of a just and peaceful world will never be achieved by America alone," Humphrey said.

"It will be achieved only when the resources of strong and weak, rich and poor alike are allocated in the most efficient manner possible, to challenges that are far too great for any one nation or group of nations to overcome."

Crazed 007 Fan Kills Youth, Self

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Max Mueller, 25, became crazed by the idea he was a secret agent like James Bond and killed Johann Gerhartl, 17, then shot himself, police reported today.

They said Mueller followed the boy into a farmer's house near Gruenberg in lower Austria Saturday, and, in front of the terror-stricken occupants, pumped four slugs of a 7.65 pistol into his victim. When he snapped out of his trance and realized what he had done, police said, he shot himself in the head. He died Sunday night in a hospital.

Police said they found letters in Mueller's possession with coded texts and orders to imaginary agents, all written by Mueller himself.

Police said Mueller saw all the Bond movies, considered himself to be "James Bond, Agent 007," and became suspicious of Gerhartl, an apprentice who worked with him, a "traitor."

Electrical Workers Picket at Spaceport

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Striking electrical workers, charging bad faith on the part of United Technology Center negotiators, posted pickets today at all five gates leading into the Kennedy Space Center.

It was not known immediately what effects the pickets would have. When the electrical workers picketed all five gates last Monday and Tuesday, only 400 construction men honored the lines while more than 12,000 other union workers passed through the lines.

Cincy GE Plant Hit by New Strike

CINCINNATI (AP)—Pickets patrolled the gates of the General Electric Co. plant in Suburban Evendale today for the second time in less than seven weeks.

The strike at the huge plant, which makes jet engines for both military and civilian planes was called at 11 p. m. Sunday night by the United Auto Workers and the International Association of Machinists.

Spokesmen for both unions said the reason for the strike was a backlog of 'thousands' of grievances. Company spokesmen deplored the strike as wasteful and hinted it was caused by internal strife in Auto Workers Local 647, which represents more than 4,000 of the plant's 13,500 employees. A union spokesman scoffed at that.

Charles T. Ohmer, union relations manager, said the plant "will be open and work is available to all employees. GE's almost 8,000 salaried employees most certainly will be at work."

The Auto Workers did not join in a one-day strike called March 2 by the Machinists. That strike caused monstrous traffic jams on Interstate 75, which runs past the plant.

William E. Barnes, Auto Workers' international representative, described the statement about internal politics as a "smoke screen."

GI Plane Crash Clues Are Sought

ARDMORE, Okla. (AP)—Investigators continued to comb a muddy hillside area today for clues to a plane crash that claimed 82 lives.

An American Flyers charter plane carrying 98 persons plunged to earth here Friday night, killing the six civilian crewmen and 74 of the 92 young Army recruits on board. Two other soldiers died later in hospitals.

Investigators hope the 16 remaining survivors will provide information on the crash of the plane, piloted by a man who had logged 5,000 hours in the air.

velopment planning a rural and farm areas.

Projects under the measure would include water and sewage systems, health service, educational and teaching facilities, recreational and cultural installations, manpower surveys and training, development of resources and other projects.

The House floor action starts Tuesday with consideration of a $9.9-billion appropriation bill for the Department of Agriculture for the 1967 fiscal year. What little controversy is expected will center on the addition of about $128 million in funds President Johnson didn't request.

Most of the extra money would be used to keep the school lunch program and the special milk program for children operating at 1966 levels despite the President's proposal to trim them down. The Appropriations Committee balked overwhelmingly at following the President's recommendations.

On Wednesday and Thursday, the House will consider the job rights and animal protection measures.

The former would strengthen enforcement powers of the Equal Employment Opportunities Commission created by the 1964 Civil Rights Act.

The animal bill is designed to protect cats and dogs from being stolen for sale to purchasers who in turn sell them for research purposes. It would make it a federal offense to transport or handle the animals in interstate commerce.

Thursday, the Senate begins debate on a $17-billion military procurement bill. Included in the total is $167 million to push development of an antimissile missile designed to knock enemy missiles out of the sky before they could reach their target.

Major bills will hold the attention of committees in both branches.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee will continue hearings on foreign aid programs, with Secretary of State Dean Rusk scheduled to make another of his almost weekly visits to the Capitol Tuesday.

The Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee continues consideration of a House-passed bill to raise the pay of federal civilian employees.

House committee action will focus on legislation to create a department of transportation, broaden unemployment compensation programs, require safety standards for automobiles, set up a world Food for Peace program, and continue the foreign aid program.

'Outer Space' Beep Is Traced in Woods

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Reports spread of strange objects and possible visitors from outer space when residents kept hearing a strange beeping from the woods near a lake southeast of Seattle.

Finally, a search party went out. They converged on a tree and found the source — a noisy baby owl.

Water Easements Given City of Niles

CHICAGO (AP)—The General Services Administration has assigned about 32,000 lineal feet of water pipe and easements on the Lordstown Military Reservation in Trumbull County for conveyance to the city of Niles, Ohio. Niles will use the property in connection with its water system to provide additional service.

Water Study Facts Viewed By Board

A review of facts as accumulated so far on a water supply survey in sections of the county was conducted today by Pickaway's Board of Commissioners.

An initial phase of the survey was launched here in March after the commissioners authorized the project. The present objective has been toward determining if residents of the area involved desire a domestic water supply.

The original area to be surveyed include parts of Walnut and Pickaway Twp. and all of Salicreek and Washington Twp.

Thomas Tootle, Route 2, conducted the initial study for the county.

REVIEWING the facts today, as they have been compiled to date, were Commissioners Lloyd Melvin, Charles Morris Jr. and Wayne Hines, along with engineering consultant Ray Siford and Loring Leist, Pickaway Farm Bureau president.

The solons' morning agenda included the preparation of a resolution that would authorize the sale of land at the now-closed Pickaway County Home. They were expected to act on the legislation later today.

Additional morning business centered on approving payment of routine bills.

Sgt. J. W. Pribble, commander of the Circleville Patrol Post, stated there were 274 emergency blood relays handled in this district last year.

Birth-Control Pills' After-Effects Discounted

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fears that long-term use of the controversial oral birth-control pills put out by several firms might cause cancer or other adverse side-effects appear groundless so far, the original developer of the pills said today.

Indeed, declared Dr. Gregory Pincus of Worcester, Mass., an evaluation of new and past studies of the use of the oral contraceptives — being taken by more than five million women in the United States alone — indicates:

1. Aside from apparently producing no major adverse effects on the reproductive and other endocrine-gland-regulated systems of the female body, the pills have achieved "apparent correction of certain abnormality states" in the womb, cervix (entrance to the womb) and breasts of some women.

2. There's justification to explore the possibility that long-term use of the pills may have the added beneficial effect of helping protect women from developing atherosclerosis — the form of hardening of the arteries under suspicion by many doctors as being a possible contributor to heart attacks.

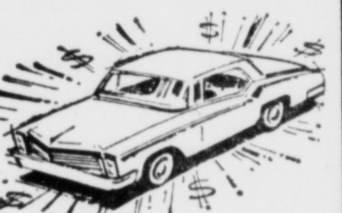

Dr. Pincus, a cofounder of the Worcester Foundation for Experimental Biology, gave his views in a "progress report" on investigations into long-term use of "The Pill," prepared for the spring meeting of the National Academy of Sciences.

He also said that various studies by other investigators indicate the pills — rather than being a potential cause of cancer — appear to be potentially protective against both cancer of the cervix and breast.

However, Dr. James A. Shannon, director of the National Institutes of Health, is on record as saying that women may be "taking a chance" by using the pills — and that the question of whether there is a long-term hazard, such as cancer, can only be settled by keeping close tabs on "a substantial number of patients over a number of years."

Real Indian To Become Chief of Indian Affairs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Robert LaFollette Bennett is an Indian who firmly believes Indians should be doing more to shape their own destiny.

He says he'll work toward that goal—and the lessening of government supervision that it would bring—after he takes over this week as head of the federal government's Bureau of Indian Affairs.

When he is sworn in Wednesday as Indian commissioner, he will become the first Indian in nearly a century—and only the second in history—to hold that position. He succeeds Philo Nash, who resigned.

The commissioner-designate, born on the Oneida Indian reservation in Wisconsin, started his government career on the Ute Indian reservation in Utah

33 years ago after graduating from an Indian boarding school in Kansas.

His steady climb up through the bureau was climaxed last month when President Johnson nominated him for the agency's top job.

Of the nation's 550,000 Indians, some 380,000 still live on reservations, many in squalor and abject poverty, and Bennett plans to ask the Indians what can be done to improve their lot.

He disclosed in an interview that he will hold a series of meetings with Indians this summer. The sessions probably will be held, he said, in the Southwest, Northwest and northern Plains—where most reservations are located.

"We need their contributions...I expect them to make more of their own decisions," Bennett said. "Where we feel we need legislation to give the tribes more authority, we will go to Congress and ask for that legislation."

This is all designed to lead to less government supervision of Indians—one of Bennett's aims.

"Indian people are becoming better educated...and I think they should be free to use this education and experience as much as possible in shaping their own destiny," he said.

26,000-1 Odds Trap Woman in Drug Deal

GLOUCESTER, Mass. (AP) — With more than 26,000 names in the Gloucester telephone book to choose from, Sandra J. Auricchio picked the wrong one, police reported.

Miss Auricchio faces charges of giving a false name and address while purchasing drugs.

She was caught, police say, because she gave the name and address of the druggist's mother-in-law while trying to fill a prescription.

His steady climb up through the bureau was climaxed last month when President Johnson nominated him for the agency's top job.

NEW YORK (AP) — Higher prices helped gain the gross national product — GNP—to a record high level in the 1966 first quarter.

And the cost of living rose again in March.

These two developments indicated that the Johnson administration must still keep in mind the possibility of asking Congress for an income tax increase to keep the economic boom from running away.

The Commerce Department reported during the week that the GNP — total of all goods and services produced — rose to an annual rate of $714.1 billion in the first three months of this year, up $16.9 billion from $697.2 billion in the 1965 fourth quarter.

This was the largest quarterly advance since the Korean War.

The Commerce Department said the gain amounted to about 2.5 per cent, reflecting a 1.5 per cent advance in output and an increase of 0.9 per cent in prices.

The price rise "was the largest of the current business expansion" that began in early 1961, the department said. It noted that quarterly price rises in the past two years have averaged less than 0.5 per cent.

The accelerated price increase "is largely attributable to the steep rise in food prices," the department said.

Contributing to the GNP growth were continuing strong increases in consumer and government purchases and fixed business investment.

Consumer spending, which reflects the biggest part of the GNP, rose $11.6 billion to an annual rate of $452.6 billion, topping its $8.5-billion advance in the previous quarter.

A Treasury official said the GNP increase indicates that the question of raising taxes still is not settled.

Another official commented that the first-quarter growth wasn't enough to "make you jump out of your seat and decide to raise taxes but it wasn't enough to 'make you have to worry any more.'"

Living costs advanced four-tenths of one per cent in March, a smaller jump than in February. But it was enough to cause continued official concern over price pressures.

With prices of many foods, goods and services advancing during the month, the consumer index rose to 112 per cent of the 1957-59 average from 111.6 per cent in February.

Commissioner Arthur Ross of the Bureau of Labor Statistics found a ray of hope in the slight decline of wholesale prices in the week ended April 19. They stood three-tenths of one per cent below the February level.

Orders received by durable goods manufacturers rose 3 per cent in March to a cold $24.2 billion. Shipments of durable goods also climbed about 3 per cent to a record $23 billion.

The Census Bureau reported that the backlog of unfilled orders for durable goods reached $66.2 billion at the end of March, an increase of $1.2 billion during the month.

The Commerce Department reported that the housing industry recovered during March from most of the slump it experienced during February. The number of private housing starts increased during March to an annual rate of 1,543,000 units, up 13 per cent from February.

An 11 per cent increase in U.S. exports occurred during March. This boosted the total for the first three months of the year to $7.2 billion. March exports amounted to $2.59 billion, which was below the March 1965 total of $2.75 billion, but the first-quarter total was ahead of the $5.75 billion a year earlier.

Retail sales fell to $5.58 billion in the post-Easter week ended April 16 from $6,116,000,000 the previous week.

Cash dividends paid by corporations in the first three months of this year totaled $5.19 billion, a gain of 12 per cent from the 1965 first quarter.

With trading volume soaring, Edwin D. Etherington, president of the American Stock Exchange, warned that the feverish activity "signals the need for care and caution on the part of those who use the marketplace."

"It is important at all times," he said, "for people who assess the potential rewards of sound investment to ponder, as well the inherent risks of ill-advised or casual speculation."

The three-millionth passenger car of the calendar year rolled off an assembly line during the week. Production for the week was estimated at 210,500 cars, compared with 211,731 the previous week and 207,924 a year ago.

Steel mills reported that demand for steel was leveling off and output for the week of 2,686,000 tons was unchanged from the previous week.

Looking Back in Pickaway County

FIVE YEARS AGO
The Pickaway County Board of Commissioners gave approval to County Engineer Henry T. McCrady to complete plans for a new bridge over Walnut Creek on County Road No. 31.

FARMERS IN THIS AREA were concerned with the siege of wet weather that was swelling rivers and streams and making fields a mass of mud.

MEMBERS OF THE CIRCLEVILLE RETAIL MERCHANTS COMMITTEE discussed a tentative "Circleville Appreciation Day."

TEN YEARS AGO
The boom of a huge construction crane struck a high tension wire on W. Main St., cutting off electricity north of Main St. for approximately 45 minutes.

A men's smoker for members and guests was scheduled at the Pickaway Country Club.

Approximately 1,284 persons attended the opening session of the Gasco-Herald Food Institute in the Pickaway County Fairgrounds Coliseum.

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO
Mary T. Hays, 640 N. Court St. a sophomore at Wellesley College, Wellesley Mass., was elected junior chairman of the service fund for the coming year.

Plans for the summer round - top were completed when the Pickaway PTA held its final meeting of the year.

At least six county schools planned to participate in the softball tournament to be held at a Scioto Twp. School.

The farm vote isn't what it once was, and the Farm Bloc, which used to be able to put its mark on most Congressional legislation, seldom finds itself in a "swing" position these days in Lyndon Johnson's Washington. But even though the farm population has shriveled in relation to city voters, it can still affect elections in key areas in the corn and wheat belts and in places that grow the vegetable and fruit crops of the nation.

At this point the possible defections in farm country voting should be a prime source of Democratic Party worry for 1966. Johnson has declared war on high food prices. The policy of using the power of government to depress agricultural market prices in the name of stopping inflation has caused Charles B. Shuman, the president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, to remark, at a recent Cornell University forum discussion, that the farmer is "getting the double whammy from the Administration." Mr. Shuman insisted that everything that Johnson has been doing to satisfy a "consensus" heavily weighted in favor of city people in grinding the farmer between the lower millstone of increased costs and the upper millstone of de facto retail price controls.

"Farm expenses," he said, "have climbed from $26.2 billion in 1960 to $30.3 billion in 1965, while realized net income went from $11.7 billion to $14.1 billion in the same period. The picture is much worse than these figures indicate, as nearly $2.5 billion of the 1965 net income came from government subsidies, and not from the market place."

Mr. Shuman objected specifically to the Administration push for a higher minimum wage, which would lead to higher prices for the things the farmer has to buy. He also referred to recent government dumping of surplus corn, an act designed to bring down the price of the hogs that feed on it.

Mr. Shuman represents the richer farmers, but when he attacks a concerted government effort to drive down the prices of farm products from one end of the spectrum to the other he could be speaking for most of agriculture. The cattlemen could be with him, for in March the Department of Commerce put tight quotas on hide exports in order to drive down the price of domestic leather for the benefit of shoe manufacturers.

And the dairy country has yet to be heard from on the subject of Secretary of Defense McNamara's decision to cut butter out of the food rations of the soldiers in Vietnam because "prices were too high." The increase in the Cheddar cheese import quota is another item that could lose the Democrats some votes, particularly in Wisconsin.

Forty-two per cent of Americans eat no breakfast — at home, according to L. A. Wilhelm of the Poultry and Egg National Board. Does this mean millions of Americans are so weight-conscious they start the day by dieting?

That figure doesn't daunt good old Dad—he continues to bring home the bacon, even if half the family doesn't eat it.

Mother's smarter. Wilhelm's figures show in 33 per cent of U.S. families Mom doesn't serve breakfast—because, why bother?

Anyway we've a sneaking notion that many of the 42 per cent who don't eat breakfast, drink it instead. In other words — orange juice and coffee.

If breakfast becomes a lost American art, there'd be one bright side to the situation—no more corny bride's biscuit and burnt toast "jokes."

However, that white-and-gold delicacy, the egg, will always be with us—especially at Easter Time

Another word that's sure to survive in the American language is "pancake." A stack of wheats, conveyed by a fleet of country sausages, tastes as good at 6 p. m. as it does at 7 a. m. Even better — you don't need to gulp it down, with one eye on the clock!

particular trouble in California, the most heavily populated state in the union, for a whole variety of reasons, many of which are unrelated to food prices. Governor Pat Brown will go into the election with such things as the Berkeley student unrest and the riots in the Watts section of Los Angeles very much on his mind. But if urban troubles are almost enough to unseat the California Democrats in Sacramento, the farm issue in California could be the "swing" issue leading to a Republican victory. Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz has made much of the fact that the combined harvested acreage of California field crops in 1965 was about one percent greater than in 1964. But the net profits of California agriculture are down sharply in a lot of things, owing mainly to the ban on Mexican bracero labor.

The gross value of asparagus, for example, was up in 1965, but the growers' net for their efforts was some $2.4 million less than in 1964. An $8.5 million rise in production costs and a decrease in harvested acres in strawberries meant that the net income dropped by $16.5 million in a single year. Despite a record price per ton for tomatoes, the expected net profit was trimmed to a narrow margin by harvesting costs that increased by $8.8 million. Lettuce, lemon, and orange growers all made less in 1965 than in 1964.

Meanwhile, a California poll says that some 76 per cent of the people in the State are paying more for their fruits and vegetables than they were paying last year. So it could easily be that Governor Brown will whiff on his third strike because of the farm issue.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

It was with regret I read in Wednesday's Herald the notice of the resignation of Mrs. Wilmina Wolford, acting librarian of the Pickaway County District Public Library, after 35 years' service to our community.

I wonder if most of us are aware of the vast labor in the past of the board of trustees and a relatively small staff that has made our library the fine institution it is. All of us owe a great debt of gratitude to these conscientious workers.

Those of us who have grown up expecting Mrs. Wolford to help us with our varied research and reading problems will miss her very much. I, for one, wish her a very happy retirement and thank her for helping foster my love of reading.

CHARLES G. WILL

conversation does much to keep marriages happy. Typical couples talk to each other about 1 1/2 hours a day, have only one real argument a month—even when they discuss money and in-law problems.

You're safer working in an auto plant than you are driving a car. In 1964 there were 1.86 disabling injuries per one million man-hours of work in U.S. auto plants, compared with an average of 6.45 for all industries.

In early day Massachusetts, a law decreed that people had to take a bath before going to bed. Immigrants had only limited quantities of bed linen, and didn't want to have to change their sheets for each new guest.

Husbands, if you want to save on your food bill, send your wife to the supermarket, only after she has had a full meal. Psychologists say housewives usually splurge on groceries when they are hungry themselves.

They're putting springs in some feminine high-heeled shoes now to act as shock absorbers when milady goes strolling.

The United States has only a little more than 6 per cent of the world population, but about 50 per cent of world income.

If yellow jackets are terrorizing your backyard, put out a pan of soap or detergent suds. The suds attract these insects. They fall in and drown.

If you had your life to live over, what would you do? Some 43 per cent of a test group asked this question said they'd get more education.

Quip: The employees had raised $50 to buy the boss a birthday gift "What can we get for the money that will make a show — something real big and impressive?" asked their spokesman. Suggested the office grouch: "Why not buy him $50 worth of rice — and boll it?"

Worth remembering: "No matter how great a man is, the size of his funeral usually depends on the weather."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

Is it possible to know by symptoms of pain if there is an ulcer of the stomach?

Pain alone in any part of the body cannot be used for an exact diagnosis. Abdominal pain may suggest to the examining physician the possibility of stomach ulcers, gall-bladder disease, chronic appendicitis or inflammation of the pancreas.

Even other associated symptoms may be confusing to the person who attempts his own diagnosis because they are similar to another's.

When there is abdominal pain that is relieved by eating, or even made worse by eating, it indicates the need for more thorough examination.

When the ulcer of the stomach or duodenum is suspected X-rays with barium can outline the stomach wall and pinpoint the presence of an ulcer. There are other studies on the stomach contents which measure the amount of hydrochloric acid and indicate the possibility of an ulcer.

There is rarely any guesswork about stomach ulcers. They can be found, treated and controlled.

What is meant by a narrowing of the intestine in a newborn infant? Is it permanent and dangerous?

This condition is called pyloric stenosis. This means a narrowing of the small part of the intestine that leads from the stomach. It occasionally happens in the development of the child and is quickly recognized shortly after birth.

Sometimes, the condition clears up with simple treatment. More often, however, an operation is made on the duodenum in order to widen this obstructed area.

The operation is performed on very young infants, only a few weeks old, when necessary. The operation is done so quickly and skillfully that these children hardly have any after-effects.

The results of this surgery for pyloric stenosis is most gratifying because the children then continue to grow and flourish.

You may notice that I deliberately avoid discussing the symptoms of this condition. Since many newborn infants may vomit or "spit up," mothers would be unnecessarily alarmed if they were told that this may be the predominant symptom of pyloric stenosis.

Conversations Weld Marriages

NEW YORK (AP)— Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail: Sociologists have found that

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

It was with regret I read in Wednesday's Herald the notice of the resignation of Mrs. Wilmina Wolford, acting librarian of the Pickaway County District Public Library, after 35 year's service to our community.

I wonder if most of us are aware of the vast labor in the past of the board of trustees and a relatively small staff that has made our library the fine institution it is. All of us owe a great debt of gratitude to these conscientious workers.

Those of us who have grown up expecting Mrs. Wolford to help us with our varied research and reading problems will miss her very much. I, for one, wish her a very happy retirement and thank her for helping foster my love of reading.

conversation does much to keep marriages happy. Typical couples talk to each other about 1½ hours a day, have only one real argument a month—even when they discuss money and in-law problems.

You're safer working in an auto plant than you are driving a car. In 1964 there were 1.86 disabling injuries per one million man-hours of work in U.S. auto plants, compared with an average of 6.45 for all industries.

In early day Massachusetts, a law decreed that people had to take a bath before going to bed. Innkeepers had only limited quantities of bed linen, and didn't want to have to change their sheets for each new guest.

Husbands, if you want to save on your food bill, send your wife to the supermarket only after she has had a full meal. Psychologists say housewives usually splurge on groceries when they are hungry themselves.

They're putting springs in some feminine high-heel shoes now to act as shock absorbers when milady goes strolling.

The United States has only a little more than 6 per cent of the world population, but about 50 per cent of world income.

If yellow jackets are terrorizing your backyard, put out a pan of soap or detergent suds. The suds attract these insects. They fall in and drown.

If you had your life to live over, what would you do? Some 43 per cent of a test group asked this question said they'd get more education.

Quip: The employees had raised $50 to buy the boss a birthday gift "What can we get for the money that will make a show — something real big and impressive?" asked their spokesman. Suggested the office grouch: "Why not buy him $50 worth of rice — and boil it?"

Worth remembering: "No matter how great a man is, the size of his funeral usually depends on the weather."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is it possible to know by symptoms of pain if there is an ulcer of the stomach?

Pain alone in any part of the body cannot be used for an exact diagnosis. Abdominal pain may suggest to the examining physician the possibility of stomach ulcers, gall-bladder disease, chronic appendicitis or inflammation of the pancreas.

Even other associated symptoms may be confusing to the person who attempts his own diagnosis because they are similar to another's.

When there is abdominal pain that is relieved by eating, or even made worse by eating, it indicates the need for more thorough examination.

When the ulcer of the stomach or duodenum is suspected X-rays with barium can outline the stomach wall and pinpoint the presence of an ulcer. There are other studies on the stomach contents which measure the amount of hydrochloric acid and indicate the possibility of an ulcer.

There is rarely any guesswork about stomach ulcers. They can be found, treated and controlled.

What is meant by a narrowing of the intestine in a newborn infant? Is it permanent and dangerous?

This condition is called pyloric stenosis. This means a narrowing of the mail part of the intestine that leads from the stomach. It occasionally happens in the development of the child and is quickly recognized shortly after birth.

Sometimes, the condition clears up with simple treatment. More often, however, an operation is made on the duodenum in order to widen this obstructed area.

The operation is performed on very young infants, only a few weeks old, when necessary. The operation is done so quickly and skillfully that these children hardly have any after-effects.

The results of this surgery for pyloric stenosis is most gratifying because the children then continue to grow and flourish.

You may notice that I deliberately avoid discussing the symptoms of this condition. Since many newborn infants may vomit or "spit up," mothers would be unnecessarily alarmed if they were told that this may be the predominant symptom of pyloric stenosis.

When the family of a patient wants an additional opinion from a consultant there is but one way to find it. Speak to your own physician, who will then forward the X-rays, blood studies and other important data so that the patient does not have to be burdened by repeating these studies.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Wayne Morse never stops belaboring President Johnson, especially for his Viet Nam policy. The two men get along well. Johnson is always finding special missions for Morse.

If it hadn't been for Morse — or his vote in 1955 — Johnson might not now be in the White House. At least his road there would have been tougher. But that isn't enough to explain the relationship between the two men.

Morse has been a critic of all the presidents since he came to the Senate in 1945.

He started out as a Republican but the Democratic presidents from Harry S. Truman through John F. Kennedy and Johnson and Democrats in general have given Morse far more professional and political understanding and appreciation than President Dwight D. Eisenhower and Republicans in general.

Morse, who had been dean of the law school at the University of Oregon, had a background in constitutional and labor law before going to the Senate. President Franklin D. Roosevelt had appointed Republican Morse an arbitrator of labor disputes for seven years on the West Coast and then a member of the War Labor Board for two. Then Morse went into the Senate as a Republican.

Democrats were late to make use of that background but not the Republicans.

His first clash with Truman came in 1946 when the president, going before Congress to ask special measures to stop the railway strike, was suddenly interrupted quietly and then announced the strike was over. Morse later publicly derided this as ham acting. This infuriated Truman and many others. In a relatively short time

Morse publicly apologized and the following year publicly praised the president for vetoing the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and fought to sustain his veto. Later Morse revealed Truman had offered him a high government job. Some sources said it was the post of attorney general.

And in his memoirs Truman spoke of his high regard for the Oregonian.

Morse poisoned himself with the Republicans when, after first supporting Eisenhower's candidacy in 1952, he did a reverse, quit the party, backed Adlai E. Stevenson, called Eisenhower a puppet of reactionaries. Morse considered himself an independent Republican. The Senate election results were close.

In deciding which party should control the Senate,

Morse sided with the Republicans although Vice President Richard M. Nixon said they didn't need him or want him. Republicans paid him back for his desertion — Morse called it "horsewhipping" — by stripping him of all his important committee assignment. He was without them two years.

In the 1954 elections, although still an independent, he plugged for a Democratic victory. The result in the Senate: 48 Democrats, 47 Republicans. This time, if Morse had joined the Republicans, making the score 48-48, the vote of Nixon would have given control to the Republicans.

One result: Johnson would not have been majority leader, the job which gave him national prominence in a hurry, and he was a man in a hurry.

The Democrats, although Morse was still an independent, put him on the Foreign Relations Committee, a post he badly ly wanted. He did not declare himself a Democrat until a month later.

Later Morse banged away at Kennedy who nevertheless made use of Morse's talents in the labor field, just as Johnson did and does.

PC Garden Club Holds Annual Dinner Session

"The Mist Propagation" was the topic of discussion at the April meeting of the Pickaway County Garden Club. Don Merry, of Wellston, O., presented the program to approximately 45 members and guests at their annual carry-in buffet which was held at the Atwater School.

Mr. Merry explained that his specialty in using this method of propagation of plants was growing roses. Mist propagation is a combination of moisture and sun providing the ideal environment causing the plant cuttings to yield their own root system. He stated that a plant grown on its own roots is a harder specimen, such as the rose, which is a budded variety if purchased at a nursery or greenhouse.

During Mr. Merry's talk, he showed slides of his project of constructing a "mist house", which is in effect a miniature greenhouse. He explained that the mist creates a fog over the plants. This shields the plants from the full burning rays of the sun. He constructed his mist house of scrap lumber, using vermiculite in the base, an ordinary garden hose installed

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Cherubs — Male or Female?

DEAR ABBY: Regardless of how an artist may portray cherubs, they are neither male nor female. Sex exists only on earth due to God's commandment to "multiply and fill the earth." (Genesis 1:28). However, the angels (or cherubs) were created by God through Michael the Archangel. Since the angels were direct creations, and there was no need for them to reproduce, there was also no need for them to be of one sex or the other.

MINISTER'S WIFE
DEAR ABBY: You ask, "Are there little girl cherubs, or are cherubs only boys?" I am pleased to solve this mystery for you. In the National Museum in Stockholm, there hangs a famous masterpiece titled "Sacrifice To Venus," painted by Rubens in 1628. It clearly shows little boy cherubs embracing little girl cherubs, unless, that is, someone had defaced the canvas.

"OBSERVING"
DEAR ABBY: Some years ago while working in a small Presbyterian church, I directed a Christmas pageant. My girl friend was performing the same task for the Baptist church. She had given the role of the angel Gabriel to a man. I gave that part to a woman. Afterward we debated about who was right. I asked our minister and he replied, "Angels have no sex." Since cherubs are angels, that should answer your question.

M. D. G.
DEAR ABBY: Ignoring for a moment the sex of a cherub, (according to the Bible they are neuter) another serious error was made in describing the cherub as a "chubby, angelic-looking child." In Kings 6:23, the size of a cherub is described to be "10 cubits in height." (A "cubit" is an ancient measure of about 18 inches, or the length from the forearm to the wrist.) This makes a cherub stand approximately 180 inches, or 15 feet tall. The first mention of cherubs is in Genesis

3:24 which says, "and so He drove the man out and posted at the east of the garden of Eden the cherubs and the flaming sword that was turning itself continually to guard the way to the tree of life." In order to be a guardian of the tree of life these cherubs had to be mature men — not chubby infants. Thank you.

BIBLE STUDENT
DEAR ABBY: The art teacher who said all cherubs were male was absolutely correct. A cherub, which is a class of angel, is the male gender in both the Old and New Testament. All angels are "he's" — never "she's." Check your Bible.

THEOLOGIAN
DEAR ABBY: You are not likely to find any girl cherubs (or cherubim) since the Hebrew word "cherub" is a noun of masculine gender. According to the Hebrew grammar, a girl cherub would not be a cherub at all, but a "cherubah." And the plural of "cherubah" is "cheruboth" — not "cherubim," which is the plural of "cherub."

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas W. Moore, president of the ABC television network, suggested in a speech this last weekend that audience infatuation with what he calls "the linear program" is simmering down.

A "linear program," says Moore, involves that old television staple, the continuing character who each week gets into and out of a few dramatic or adventurous situations.

Moore, however, was not taking shots at continuing characters like his own network's long-running "Fugitive" or "Holy Ingrid"—Batman and Robin the Boy Wonder. He was merely suggesting that there should be a greater variety in programming and that the anthology type of series, which is practically nonexistent today — should be given another chance.

Few would argue with this suggestion. But it was interesting in this contest to stop up two weekend ABC programs. One was what Moore calls "bread and butter" entertainment—Sunday night's episode of "The FBI," a fast-moving, thoroughly routine cops and robbers series with a continuing character. The other was Friday night's "The Poppy Is Also a Flower," a 90-minute special program that cost a fortune to produce, was conceived by Ian Fleming, directed by Terence Young of "Thunderball" fame, and had at least 15 major stars. It emerged as a very long, confusing bore.

"The FBI" was a neatly packaged story about a bank robbery that was halted in the nick of time — with the usual final shootout — after the hero had traced a lost button and checked out logical suspects. It was familiar, smoothly produced and professionally acted.

But that big special, an attempt to show the United Nation's part in controlling illicit narcotics traffic, was an almost amateurish attempt at a suspense thriller.

It was E. G. Marshall and Trevor Howard playing a pair of middle-aged James Bonds. It had Yul Brynner in a small role as an Iranian military man, Rita Hayworth as a woman addict and Princess Grace of Monaco in a foreword saying that narcotic addiction was a program.

The cameras went from shots of Bedouins in the desert to a luxury yacht off the Riviera. It even had one of those silent, deadly struggles on the platform of a fast-moving train so dear to the hearts of British spy story writers.

Church-State Ruling Is Made by Judge

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A Superior Court judge has ruled that the use of Seattle high schools by the Federation of Christian Athletes does not violate constitutional provisions for separation of church and state.

The father of a high school youth had sought a restraining order on constitutional grounds. Judge George H. Revelle said the rallies were not a violation because they were not held during school hours.

When modern recipes call for brown sugar, the term "firmly packed" follows. To measure the sugar this way, fill the cup (or fraction of a cup) with the brown sugar and as you do so press it down so tightly and firmly that when turned out it holds its shape; level off the measure with a spatula.

PC Garden Club Holds Annual Dinner Session

"The Mist Propagation" was the topic of discussion at the April meeting of the Pickaway County Garden Club. Don Merry, of Wellston, O., presented the program to approximately 45 members and guests at their annual carry-in buffet which was held at the Atwater School.

Mr. Merry explained that his specialty in using this method of propagation of plants was growing roses. Mist propagation is a combination of moisture and sun providing the ideal environment causing the plant cuttings to yield their own root system. He stated that a plant grown on its own roots is a harder specimen, such as the rose, which is a budded variety if purchased at a nursery or greenhouse.

During Mr. Merry's talk, he showed slides of his project of constructing a "mist house", which is in effect a miniature greenhouse. He explained that the mist creates a fog over the plants. This shields the plants from the full burning rays of the sun. He constructed his mist house of scrap lumber, using vermiculite in the base, an ordinary garden hose installed up through the center with a mist nozzle attachment and clear plastic covering the frame.

He has successfully grown 26 rose plants during a growing season, which is 4 to 5 weeks. He noted that in the propagation process, the rose plants were completely disease-free, at the conclusion of his presentation. Mr. Merry answered several questions from his interested listeners.

Mrs. Alden Bray presided during the business session. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. James Scott recorded the minutes of the meeting. Mrs. Ned Harden reported that the annual Spring flower show will be held May 6 at the Episcopal Parish House.

The theme of this year's show is "To Everything There Is a Season and a Time to Every Purpose Under Heaven." Mrs. David Craven is assisting Mrs. Harden as chairmen of the public. Schedules are available from the chairman or members of the club. Advance registrations are required for artistic arrangement entries and must be placed with Mrs. C. K. Vaughn prior to May 5.

Mrs. Bray gave a report on the convention recently held in Columbus. The club voted to participate in a project aiding the Children's Home in planning and sewing seeds for a flower garden this year. Mrs. James Moffitt demonstrated how to groom iris and tulips for showing purposes.

Hostesses for the evening were Miss Ann Pierce, chairman. Mrs. Joe Christy, Mrs. W. E. Defenbaugh, Mrs. William Koch, Mrs. Turney Pontious, Mrs. James Scott, Mrs. James Stallings, Mrs. Ed Fetherolf, Mrs. Burl Wiggins and Miss Miriam Weaver. This committee had decorated the tables for the buffet dinner with lovely arrangements of spring flowers.

Guests for the evening were Mrs. Richard Hartert, Mrs. Jack Hughes, Mrs. Harley Roush, Mrs. Michael Shaffer and Mrs. Edna Newmyer. Several husbands were also guests of their wives for the evening's activities.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Cherubs — Male or Female?

DEAR ABBY: Regardless of how an artist may portray cherubs, they are neither male nor female. Sex exists only on earth due to God's commandment to "multiply and fill the earth." (Genesis 1:28). However, the angels (or cherubs) were created by God through Michael the Archangel. Since the angels were direct creations, and there was no need for them to reproduce, there was also no need for them to be of one sex or the other.

MINISTER'S WIFE

DEAR ABBY: You ask, "Are there little girl cherubs, or are cherubs only boys?" I am pleased to solve this mystery for you. In the National Museum in Stockholm, there hangs a famous masterpiece titled "Sacrifice To Venus," painted by Rubens in 1628. It clearly shows little boy cherubs embracing little girl cherubs, unless, that is, someone had defaced the canvas.

"OBSERVING"

DEAR ABBY: Some years ago while working in a small Presbyterian church, I directed a Christmas pageant. My girl friend was performing the same task for the Baptist church. She had given the role of the angel Gabriel to a man. I gave that part to a woman. Afterwards we debated about who was right. I asked our minister and he replied, "Angels have no sex." Since cherubs are angels, that should answer your question.

M. D. G.

DEAR ABBY: Ignoring for a moment the sex of a cherub, (according to the Bible they are neuter) another serious error was made in describing the cherub as a "chubby, angelic-looking child." In Kings 6:23, the size of a cherub is described to be "10 cubits in height." (A "cubit" is an ancient measure of about 18 inches, or the length from the forearm to the wrist.) This makes a cherub stand approximately 180 inches, or 15 feet tall. The first mention of cherubs is in Genesis

3:24 which says, "and so He drove the man out and posted at the east of the garden of Eden the cherubs and the flaming sword that was turning itself continually to guard the way to the tree of life." In order to be a guardian of the tree of life these cherubs had to be mature men — not chubby infants. Thank you.

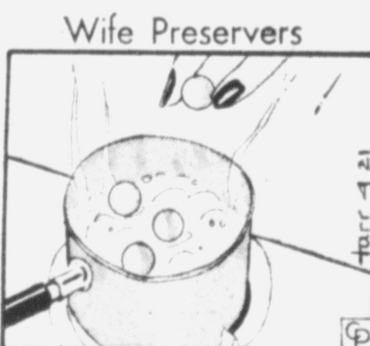

BIBLE STUDENT

DEAR ABBY: The art teacher who said all cherubs were male was absolutely correct. A cherub, which is a class of angel, is the male gender in both the Old and New Testament. All angels are "he's" — never "she's". Check your Bible.

THEOLOGIAN

DEAR ABBY: You are not likely to find any girl cherubs (or cherubim) since the Hebrew word "cherub" is a noun of masculine gender. According to the Hebrew grammar, a girl cherub would not be a cherub at all, but a "cherubah." And the plural of "cherub" is "cherubim" — not "cherubim," — which is the plural of "cherub."

Views on Television — Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas W. Moore, president of the ABC television network, suggested in a speech this last weekend that audience infatuation with what he calls "the linear program" is simmering down.

A "linear program," says Moore, involves that old television staple, the continuing character who each week gets into and out of a few dramatic or adventurous situations.

Moore, however, was not taking shots at continuing characters like his own network's long-running "Fugitive" or "Holy Ingrid"—Batman and Robin the Boy Wonder. He was merely suggesting that there should be a greater variety in programming and that the anthology type of series, which is practically nonexistent today — should be given another chance.

Few would argue with this suggestion. But it was interesting in this contest to stop up two weekend ABC programs. One was what Moore calls "bread and butter" entertainment—Sunday night's episode of "The FBI," a fast-moving, thoroughly routine cops and robbers series with a continuing character. The other was Friday night's "The Poppy Is Also a Flower," a 90-minute special program that cost a fortune to produce, was conceived by Ian Fleming, directed by Terence Young of "Thunderball" fame, and had at least 15 major stars. It emerged as a very long, confusing bore.

"The FBI" was a neatly packaged story about a bank robbery that was halted in the nick of time — with the usual final shootout — after the hero had traced a lost button and checked out logical suspects. It was familiar, smoothly produced and professionally acted.

But that big special, an attempt to show the United Nation's part in controlling illicit narcotics traffic, was an almost amateurish attempt at a suspense thriller.

It was E. G. Marshall and Trevor Howard playing a pair of middle-aged James Bonds. It had Yul Brynner in a small role as an Iranian military man, Rita Hayworth as a woman addict and Princess Grace of Monaco in a foreword saying that the narcotic addition was a program. The cameras went from shots of Bedouins in the desert to a luxury yacht off the Riviera. It even had one of those silent, deadly struggles on the platform of a fast moving train so dear to the hearts of British spy story writers.

Portugal's Quiet Dictator Is Nearly 77

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The world's most durable dictator, Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, reaches 77 Thursday, having spent almost half his life ruling Portugal.

Though the nation and its scattered territories are preparing elaborate festivities for the anniversary of his regime, Premier Salazar, a shy former economics professor who detests pomp and ceremony, intends to stand in the wings.

The white-haired premier has led an orderly, almost monastic life since he took over the reins and guided this country of 10 million out of political and economic chaos.

Salazar, a bachelor, lives in Estrela Palace, a comfortable yellow residence nestled in a flower garden where fountains play in the sun.

Despite his age, Salazar puts in a full eight-hour day working alone in the mornings at his National Assembly office across the way from Estrela and conferring with ministers and close advisers in the afternoon.

He speaks with pride of Portugal's achievements since the 1926 revolution when a clique of army generals took power. They urged Salazar to quit his post as professor of economics at the University of Coimbra and straighten out Portugal's snarled finances. He actually did not hold an official title until he took over as finance minister April 27, 1928.

Salazar did so well that he was boosted to the premiership in 1932. From the day he took office, he held Portugal in an iron grip, smothering all opposition and keeping the people in line.

Under his stern rule Portugal's public revenues have risen twelvefold to more than $800 million. Illiteracy in the school population has dropped from 70 per cent to almost zero. Living standards have tripled, industrial production is rising at the rate of 11.7 per cent a year, and the number of university students has increased nearly sixfold.

"We have worked hard, and we might well say we have worked alone, at a time when much is said about subsidies and technical aid and everything seems to depend on them," Salazar says.

But Salazar's regime is beginning to feel the pinch of its three-front war in Africa, against rebels in the territories of Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea. This running conflict is eating up 42 per cent of the national budget.

On the economic front, women and children have had to go to work in Portugal to replace more than 100,000 emigrants who quit the country each year in search of better wages.

Another source of dissatisfaction has been the lack of support NATO allies give to Portugal's African policies. The United States' position has been resent-

Solon Seeks Campaign Aid From 'Anyone'

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Republican Rep. Sam Landes of Madison County, fighting against two opponents for re-election in the 20th District, said today he's soliciting help for his campaign from anyone who can give it to him.

Landes made the remarks in commenting on a published story that he had solicited two liquor distillers for contribution.

Landes, who is a member of the House Liquor Control Committee, while confirming he had asked for contributions, said he believed the story was an "attack from the liquor industry because I didn't support all their legislation."

"I've been asking everybody I can think of for contributions," Landes said, adding that "I suppose there were some liquor distillers on my list. . . and I've their prayers, votes and money to run my campaign."

Portugal's Quiet Dictator Is Nearly 77

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — The world's most durable dictator, Antonio de Oliveira Salazar, reaches 77 Thursday, having spent almost half his life ruling Portugal.

Though the nation and its scattered territories are preparing elaborate festivities for the anniversary of his regime, Premier Salazar, a shy former economics professor who detests pomp and ceremony, intends to stand in the wings.

The white-haired premier has led an orderly, almost monastic life since he took over the reins and guided this country of 10 million out of political and economic chaos.

Salazar, a bachelor, lives in Estrela Palace, a comfortable yellow residence nestled in a flower garden where fountains play in the sun.

Despite his age, Salazar puts in a full eight-hour day working alone in the mornings at his National Assembly office across the way from Estrela and conferring with ministers and close advisers in the afternoon.

He speaks with pride of Portugal's achievements since the 1926 revolution when a clique of army generals took power. They urged Salazar to quit his post as professor of economics at the University of Coimbra and straighten out Portugal's snarled finances. He actually did not hold an official title until he took over as finance minister April 27, 1928.

Salazar did so well that he was boosted to the premiership in 1932. From the day he took office, he held Portugal in an iron grip, smothering all opposition and keeping the people in line.

Under his stern rule Portugal's public revenues have risen twelvefold to more than $800 million. Illiteracy in the school population has dropped from 70 per cent to almost zero. Living standards have tripled, industrial production is rising at the rate of 11.7 per cent a year, and the number of university students has increased nearly sixfold.

"We have worked hard, and we might well say we have worked alone, at a time when much is said about subsidies and technical aid and everything seems to depend on them," Salazar says.

But Salazar's regime is beginning to feel the pinch of its three-front war in Africa, against rebels in the territories of Angola, Mozambique and Portuguese Guinea. This running conflict is eating up 42 per cent of the national budget.

On the economic front, women and children have had to go to work in Portugal to replace more than 100,000 emigrants who quit the country each year in search of better wages.

Another source of dissatisfaction has been the lack of support NATO allies give to Portugal's African policies. The United States' position has been resented particularly.

Portugal has been building up defense agreements with West Germany, France and Spain outside of what Salazar calls the "inadequate" Atlantic Alliance.

This raises the possibility of Portugal's terminating the Azores Islands air base and naval facilities granted to the United States in 1947.

Solon Seeks Campaign Aid From 'Anyone'

LONDON, Ohio (AP)—Republican Rep. Sam Landes of Madison County, fighting against two opponents for re-election in the 20th District, said today he's soliciting help for his campaign from anyone who can give it to him.

Landes made the remarks in commenting on a published story that he had solicited two liquor distillers for contribution.

Landes, who is a member of the House Liquor Control Committee, while confirming he had asked for contributions, said he believed the story was an "attack from the liquor industry because I didn't support all their legislation."

"I've been asking everybody I can think of for contributions," Landes said, adding that "I suppose there were some liquor distillers on my list. . . and I've their prayers, votes and money to run my campaign."

PTA News

NICHOLAS DRIVE

Pedestrian and vehicular safety was the principal topic of the April meeting of the Nicholas Drive Parent Teacher Assn.

A panel discussion covered background and planning for safe travel to and from the Nicholas Drive site upon the opening of the new high school in the fall. Panel members were R. L. Brehmer Jr., Board of Education; Joseph Bell, City Council; and Robert Temple, safety committee. H. B. Whitfield Jr., PTA program chairman, acted as moderator.

Officers for the 1966-67 school year were elected at the PTA business meeting. Dr. and Mrs. Donald Schiewetz will be general chairmen, Dr. and Mrs. Howard Davies, co-chairmen, Mrs. Larry Graham, secretary, and David Gillespie, treasurer.

Committee chairmen will be appointed later.

Ivory Coast Chalks Up Rare Record in Africa

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (AP)—The Ivory Coast, neighbor of Guinea and Ghana or the west coast of Africa, is showing the underdeveloped world how to achieve economic progress without resorting to Communist-inspired theories, slogans or violence.

"We are making our great leap forward in the non-Communist way," says the nation's President, Felix Houphouet-Boigny, 60.

With moderation and little speech making, he is leading the Ivory Coast to prosperity at a rate unique among undeveloped countries.

In the six years since leaving French rule, the Ivory Coast has maintained an average annual growth rate of nine per cent. Economic progress is forging ahead of the government's 15-year development plan, and private investments are pouring in from Western Europe and the United States.

The plan, calling for a total investment of $2.5 billion in 1960-74, is being surpassed by more than 10 per cent.

This country has 4 million inhabitants in an area slightly larger than that of New Mexico. It now ranks third among the world's exporters of coffee, fourth in cocoa and fifth in bananas and pineapples. It is Africa's top exporter of tropical timber and will soon lead the continent in palm oil, rubber and rice. Its $50-million export surplus in 1965 contrasts with the deficits of most newly independent African countries.

How is it done? Houphouet-Boigny, an elder statesman of black Africa, is a staunch believer in private enterprise. He thinks the African countries should seek their economic emancipation only through a gradual process of reform, education and technical training.

He disapproves experiments in socialism which have frightened away private investors and brought economic stagnation to such countries as Guinea, Mali and Algeria.

Miss Felkey will serve for the 1966-67 school year.

Meaningful economic help can come to the African nations only from the West, not from the Soviet Union or Red China, Houphouet-Boigny says. He notes that some African nations spurned Western help for political reasons and are still waiting for the Communist aid they expected.

Finished Steel Buying Levels

Bars, Tin Plate
Still in Demand

CLEVELAND (AP)—Demand is booming for reinforcing bars and tin plate, but the over-all buying of finished steel probably has passed a first-half peak and is leveling off, Steel Magazine said today.

A major producer of bars was quoted by the metalworking weekly as saying current business is double what normally would be considered excellent volume.

Some of the current surge in ordering of tin plate is seasonal, but the canmakers are ordering heavily in anticipation of an active packing season.

"Aluminum coated sheets are not being sought as vigorously as they were recently," Steel reported, and "some letdown is expected" in hot and cold rolled sheets when automotive requirements turn down in June. Steel said, compared with 51,000 tons, compared with 2,686,000 in the preceding week. One steelworks that had been idled first half of 1964.

Last week's ingot output was estimated by Steel at 2,740,000 net tons, compared with 2,686,000 in the preceding week. One steelworks that had been idled by a wildcat strike resumed production.

"Steelmakers say they have ample capacity to file the demand for steel for guns without appreciably affecting availability of tonnage for non-defense uses," Steel report. "No more than 2 to 5 per cent of shipments are for military users," the magazine estimated.

Steel's composite price on No. 1 heavy melting scrap held unchanged at $31.17 a ton last week, but the magazine noted that "prices continue soft."

A "Welcome" was given by Jeff Mowery, Robbie Ogle, Lee Hatmaker and Darren Metzger. Prayer was offered by Dee Anne Clark and a group of the students.

A Flower Drill, introduced by J. R. Hamman, was presented by Jodi James, Chrystal Metzger, Dee Anne Clark, Vicki Cottrill, Dawn Hawkes, Susan Green, Kim Huff and Sandra Drummond.

Ivory Coast Chalks Up Rare Record in Africa

ABIDJAN, Ivory Coast (AP)—The Ivory Coast, neighbor of Guinea and Ghana or the west coast of Africa, is showing the underdeveloped world how to achieve economic progress without resorting to Communist-inspired theories, slogans or violence.

"We are making our great leap forward in the non-Communist way," says the nation's President, Felix Houphouët-Boigny, 60.

With moderation and little speech making, he is leading the Ivory Coast to prosperity at a rate unique among undeveloped countries.

In the six years since leaving French rule, the Ivory Coast has maintained an average annual growth rate of nine per cent. Economic progress is forging ahead of the government's 15-year development plan, and private investments are pouring in from Western Europe and the United States. The plan, calling for a total investment of $2.5 billion in 1960-74, is being surpassed by more than 10 per cent.

This country has 4 million inhabitants in an area slightly larger than that of New Mexico. It now ranks third among the world's exporters of coffee, fourth in cocoa and fifth in bananas and pineapples. It is Africa's top exporter of tropical timber and will soon lead the continent in palm oil, rubber and rice. Its $50-million export surplus in 1965 contrasts with the deficits of most newly independent African countries.

How is it done? Houphouët-Boigny, an elder statesman of black Africa, is a staunch believer in private enterprise. He thinks the African countries should seek their economic emancipation only through a gradual process of reform, education and technical training.

He disapproves experiments in socialism which have frightened away private investors and brought economic stagnation to such countries as Guinea, Mali and Algeria.

Birdie Keeps Close Eye on Pitcher List

CLEVELAND (AP)— Birdie Tebbetts has something else on his mind besides the fact that the Cleveland Indians are two games from tying an American League winning record.

The Tribe skipper is wondering about his pitching rotation for the long pull ahead— 81 games in 77 days by July 11.

With seven straight victories, the American League leaders needed Sunday's rain-out doubleheader in Boston to tie the league record.

The Indians open a seven-game home stand today, starting with the Kansas City Athletics, and Tebbetts said "It's time to start a regular rotation. Now we'll find out if our pitchers heeded my lectures of spring training."

Tebbetts told the pitching staff in Arizona that they had to keep in shape when the Indians weren't playing enough for everyone to work regularly.

Tebbetts said lefty Sam McDowell likely will start today, "but I want to take a long look at the future." He figures on a four-man regular rotation.

"I've always said McDowell and Sonny Siebert would be in it," Tebbetts said. "Gary Bell certainly deserves to continue in our starting plans on the basis of his work to date. And Luis Tiant has pitched well enough to be included at the present time."

Celts Need One More NBA Victory

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics move back to Los Angeles with a feeling of foreboding today about the sixth game of the National Basketball Association's championship playoffs.

"They'll be at their best with the crowd behind them and knowing there's no tomorrow," said John Havlicek of the Celtics after the defending champions put on their worst performance of the series to lose the fifth game 121-117 Sunday at Boston Garden.

Losing Coach Red Auerbach was especially burned about having to make the trip to Los Angeles for the game Tuesday night.

"We have that long, long trip for nothing," he moaned. "And I warned the guys this might happen. Once we got the lead we got careless. We thought it was over."

It was a combination of poor Boston shooting and a stronger Los Angeles defense that gave the Lakers the fifth game victory, slicing Boston's lead to 3-2.

The Celtics had two terrible shooting periods, falling behind 37-23 in the first period while making only eight of 25 shots. Boston sunk only nine of 22 field goal tries in the fourth period although they still outscored the Lakers from the floor 45-43 for the game.

Hillsboro, Greenfield Share Lead

Hillsboro's Eddie Robbins hurled a one-hit shutout Friday against Greenfield McClain, to force the two Highland County members of the South Central Ohio League in a deadlock for first place.

Both Hillsboro and McClain have 3-1 records. Miami Trace was surprised by Wilmington, 20-3, Friday and both teams share second place with 2-2 marks.

Washington C. H. and Circleville share the League's cellar with 1-3 records.

Race Event Postponed Due to Rain

Rain forced postponement of Sunday's annual Pickaway County Harness Matinee at the local Fairgrounds.

The event is scheduled for next Sunday. Post time is 1:30.

With the postponement of the matinee for one week, the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce also delayed its Spaghetti Supper.

John Fissell, race secretary, noted the race card Sunday should be about the same as originally planned for yesterday.

It marks the second consecutive year the Matinee has been postponed by inclement weather.

Paul Hager New Coach At McClain

The Greenfield McClain Board of Education has named Paul Hager, 33, as head basketball coach. He replaces Dale Allen who resigned after the past season.

Hager served as assistant coach mentor this year. He was one of 34 applicants for the position.

The new cage coach joined the McClain staff two years ago and has coached reserve basketball and assisted with football and baseball. He is a physical education instructor and teaches health.

His base salary starting next fall will be $5,800 and he will receive an additional $500 as head basketball coach and $200 as baseball assistant. He was relieved as a football aide on his own request.

The board is still studying applications for the position of varsity football coach to replace William Damron who also resigned last month.

Four Anglers Land 91 Bass In Tennessee

Four local fishermen landed 91 white bass weighing 118 pounds on a fishing expedition to Dale Hollow Lake, Tenn.

Making the trip were Carl Justice, Whisler; Al Wright, Stoutsville; Tom Crawford, Circleville; and Bill Stockman, Columbus.

They were based at Buck Morton's Fishing Dock. Morton is a former resident of Richmond Dale, O.

The largest fish landed weighed 3 1-4 pounds.

Ohio State Bid Curtailed by Rain

CHICAGO (AP)—Illinois and Minnesota climbed into a first place tie in the opening weekend of the Big Ten baseball race while defending champion Ohio State and always powerful Michigan ran into rain problems.

Illinois swept a three-game set from Purdue including 6-3 and 2-1 triumphs Saturday and Minnesota slugged Wisconsin Friday and came back with a pair of 11-4 victories over Northwestern Saturday.

Both Ohio State and Michigan won Friday but their scheduled doubleheader Saturday was rained out.

Pace Mounts At Scioto

The May 27 opening of Scioto Downs is still one month away, but activity at the S. High St. pacing arena is beginning to reach a furious pace.

During the past week, more than 100 trotters and pacers have moved into their summer home in the enlarged Scioto Downs barn area. The mailman delivered checks to the track auditing office that will keep exactly 250 2-year-old Challenge Stakes nominees eligible to the 1966 edition of the coveted stake event.

Of the 250 eligibles to Challenge Stakes Number Five, 138 are Ohio owned. Heading the Buckeye state contingent as usual is the Bruce Nickells stable with 17 head. Trainer Jim Hackett has eight nominees for owner Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati. Other Ohio horsemen with Challenge Stakes eligibles are Cury Smart, Dick Buxton, and national race winning champion Bob Farrington. Ohio owners listed are George Connors, Garrett Claypool, and James Wiggins, all of Columbus.

On a national scale, the celebrated Dancer family from the east coast, are planning an invasion of Scioto Downs this summer via the Challenge Stakes. Th faemous Dancer clan, headed by the nation's leading money winning driver Stanley, also includes brothers, Harold and Vernon, and nephew "Sonny".

Stanley Dancer still holds the track pacing record at Scioto Downs with Henry T. Adios in the 1962 HTA pace. The mile in 1:58 was a world record at that time. Sonny Dancer, a frequent visitor at The Downs has three victories to his credit here.

He first hit the winners circle here with Pro Hanover in the 1963 HTA Trot, and currently is sporting back-to-back wins in the 2 yr-old pacing division of the Challenge Stakes with Gee Lee Hanover in 1964, and Texan Hanover in 1965.

The Dodgers hit only 78 home runs last season, their lowest total since 1946 when they hit 55 as the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Reds Last But Remain Very Happy

HOUSTON (AP)— The Cincinnati Reds were a happier baseball team today even though they remained in last place in the National League.

The Reds edged Philadelphia, 3-2, Sunday at Cincinnati in the first game of a doubleheader. The game was called because of rain after 5 1/2 innings.

It was only the Reds' second victory in nine games and came after six consecutive defeats, so the players whooped it up a bit in the clubhouse. The Reds and Chicago Cubs are both 5 1/2 games out of the league lead, but the Cubs .273 average is 51 percentage points up on the Reds.

Manager Don Heffner told newsmen that "Sometimes you do things right and everything turns out wrong. But we have been playing good ball and the pitching has been very good, so there is a distinct possibility that this victory has straightened out a lot of things."

Heffner plans to start Jim Maloney (1-0) tonight against the Astros' Bob Bruce (1-1) or Ray Cuellar (0-1) in the clubs' first 1966 meeting.

Williamsport PTS Slates Cage Tilts

The Williamsport Parent-Teacher Society is sponsoring a doubleheader basketball game Friday.

It was only the Reds' second victory in nine games and came after six consecutive defeats, so the players whooped it up a bit in the clubhouse. The Reds and Chicago Cubs are both 5½ games out of the league lead, but the Cubs .273 average is 51 percentage points up on the Reds.

Manager Don Heffner told newsmen that "Sometimes you do things right and everything turns out wrong. But we have been playing good ball and the pitching has been very good, so there is a distinct possibility that this victory has straightened out a lot of things."

Heffner plans to start Jim Maloney (1-0) tonight against the Astros' Bob Bruce (1-1) or Ray Cuellar (0-1) in the club's first 1966 meeting.

Willie Mays Ties Off's HR Record

511th Homer
Ball Fetches
$50 for Fan

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

One baseball, slightly scuffed, $50.

Herman Franks may have an interesting time explaining that item on the next expense account he hands the San Francisco Giants.

But it's legitimate. So was the cause — the 511th homer of Willie Mays' career, a 420-foot shot in the eighth inning that tied Mel Ott's National League career record and triggered the Giants to a 4-2 victory over Houston Sunday.

Mays came to the plate with the Giants trailing 2-1, took aim at Jim Owen's 2-0 pitch and the Astrodome's left center field seats, where H. V. Smith of Palestine, Tex., pounced on the baseball.

Smith eventually got his reward, and Mays his trophy when Franks popped into the dressing room after game and walked up to his $125.00 center fielder with the ball sitting in the palm of his hand.

"Here," said Franks, "I paid the man 50 bucks for this."

Then Mays took over.

"I was going for a homer every time up," he admitted. "I wanted to do it in San Francisco, but the game was on television and I don't guess it makes much difference. I know it made our fans happy."

"It was just one home run." Just one more home run will put Mays into fourth place on the all-time homer list, ahead of Ott, and behind only Ted Williams with 521, Jimmy Foxx with 534 and Babe Ruth with 714. Barring injury, Mays should pass all but Ruth this season.

While Mays was making history, St. Louis whipped Pittsburgh 5-2, the Chicago Cubs shutout Los Angeles 2-0, Cincinnati edged Philadelphia 3-2 in a game shortened to 5½ innings by rain and Atlanta downed the New York Mets 5-2 before losing the nightcap 3-2.

In the American League, Baltimore edged the New York Yankees 2-1, Minnesota defeated California 5-3, the Chicago White Sox nipped Kansas City 4-3 in 10 innings and Detroit swept Washington 4-0 and 4-1. The Cleveland-Boston doubleheader was rained out.

Mays' homer, his sixth of the season, lifted the Giants into a 2-2 tie, and one out later, they clinched it when Jim Hart rocketed a solo homer off Owens into the left field seats.

Ray Sadecki made his first start for the Cardinals but didn't go the distance. However, he stayed around long enough to get two key hits, slamming a two-run homer in the second inning that put it out of the Pirates' reach. Sadecki also singled and scored in the seventh inning but then needed Tracy

Ability To Endure Pain Is Key to Young Miler

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Precocious Jim Ryun, whose 3:55.8 mile at the Kansas Relays was swiftest in the world this year, is America's premiere miler because of his willingness and ability to endure pain.

"This is the secret — his ability to push back the pain barrier," said Bob Timmons, coach of the 18-year-old Kansas freshman. "If you keep working long and hard the pain becomes terrific."

"If you want to be great, you can't let down. Jim has the will and ability to fight it through. He does it day after day in practice."

Ryun's time was just a half-second off his American citizens record of 3:55.3 at the National AAU last year. Teammate Tom Yergovich paced him to a 1:58.7 Saturday, his best half-mile time ever during a mile race. Ryun steamed the last 220 in 26 flat compared to 26.6 in his record AAU race.

A repeat performance at the Drake Relays Saturday is unlikely, Timmons said, because his training schedule is still aimed at the AAU meet in June and Russian meet in July. He'll resume heavy work this week.

Rice won three Relays crowns, Oklahoma State and Kansas two each at the 41st Kansas Games. Eight meet records were smashed, thanks to seven hours of labor on a track sodden from a heavy overnight rain.

Rice's 3:07.4 scorcher was a mile relay meet record and fastest anywhere by a Texas school. Jim Ellington the only senior, anchored the mile in 46.1.

Ryun was an overwhelming choice as most outstanding performer over John Perry of Oklahoma State, who had a 1:49.2 anchor half for a winning two-mile time of 7:22.8, best in the nation this year, plus a 1:48.8 for the winning sprint medley and a 47 flat quarter on the mile relay.

Kansas set a distance medley record of 9:41.3, and a four-mile mark of 16:36.8, both best in Big Eight history, with John Lawson running 4:05.6 and 4:03 anchor miles. Lowell Paul won the distance medley with his 2:56.8 three-quarters.

Other meet marks Saturday, winding up a three-day meet, were a 6-9½ high jump by Missouri's Steve Herndon and a 50-9½ triple jump by John Vernon of Southern Illinois.

Late Round Knockout Is Griffith's Goal

NEW YORK (AP) — Welterweight king Emile Griffith hopes to catch up to a tiring Dick Tiger in the late rounds and then knock him out in their battle of boxing champions at Madison Square Garden tonight.

The odds, however, favor the 36-year-old Tiger by 8-5 to make a successful defense of his midweight title against the 28-year-old challenger.

The 15-round is scheduled to start at 9 p.m. EST.

Supervisor Is Assigned At Du Pont

Wendell G. Goodman has been assigned for his second tour of duty at Du Pont's Circleville plant.

Goodman was transferred here from the company's International Department. He has been assigned as development supervisor in the technical section.

His first tour at the local installation started in 1958 as an engineer in the technical section. He later was named a research engineer in the same section.

In June of 1964 Goodman was transferred to Du Pont's "Mylar" plant in Luxembourg. His initial employment with the company was in 1958 when he was assigned as a chemical engineer, research development section, at the Belle plant in West Virginia.

Goodman and his wife, Lucy, live at Knollwood Village. They have two daughters, Wende, 3½ and Katherine, 2.

Dad's Dare Leads Beauty To Crown

WILLOUGHBY, Ohio (AP)—After accepting her father's challenge and taking the state's most coveted beauty award, Karen Dietz, 20, is back home and says "All I want to do is sleep."

Karen, a secretary, returned home Sunday night after being chosen Miss Ohio over 16 other finalists in Lima Saturday. She will go to Miami Beach May 13-21 for the Miss USA pageant.

The pert blonde said she would not have entered the Richmond Heights beauty contest if her father had not looked at her the night before the contest and said, "You could never do it."

Karen, who measures, 35-22-36, said her father's challenge came after the Willoughby contest was over, so she entered the Richmond Heights contest, which had no residency requirements.

When told that she had won the Miss Ohio contest, Karen burst into tears and sobbed, "I'm numb. I can't believe it."

First runner-up was Terry Challis of Bexley, Columbus suburb, and third-place went to Sharon Heopling of Dayton.

Red War . .

Navy planes from the carriers Enterprise and Kitty Hawk hit 44 targets in North Viet Nam, concentrating around the coastal city of Vinh and letting loose with bombs up to 2,000 pounds.

Air Force pilots reported spotting four surface-to-air missiles Sunday 30 miles northeast of Hanoi. In accordance with new security rules, a spokesman refused to disclose whether the two planes shot down were hit by missiles.

In political developments, the government announced it would appoint a Committee of 100 to conduct the national elections it has promised in three to five months. But even as it did, a student orator told a rally in Saigon: "Before we talk about elections, the government must stabilize the situation in the country." He was heavily applauded.

Ten thousand Roman Catholics demonstrated in Saigon Sunday while others march in nearby Thu Duc and in the northern city of Da Nang. The demonstrations, a show of strength against the Buddhists, all demanded a more vigorous war effort against the Communists.

Karen, who measures, 35-25-36, said her father's challenge came after the Willoughby contest was over, so she entered the Richmond Heights contest, which had no residency requirements.

When told that she had won the Miss Ohio contest, Karen burst into tears and sobbed, "I'm numb. I can't believe it."

First runner-up was Terry Challis of Bexley, Columbus suburb, and third-place went to Sharon Heophling of Dayton.
